Subject: Fwd: Graduation

Ma'am -
We look forward to your trip down for graduation next week. The FT Benning Protocol office is spinning up as it not often the son of an elected official graduates from "grunt" school. Protocol people are the ones that handle making proper arrangements to ensure we Army folk don't make ourselves look stupid, kind of like Ms Manners-types. I didn't know they existed until the other day. I'm sure over the next few days there will be more questions, but I figured I would use our direct line of communication to try and get a few of the ones I have now answered. Otherwise, Track will be calling 2-3 times a day as these questions come rolling in.

Protocol welcomes your family to stay in one of the Distinguished Visitor quarters on FT Benning, it's called the Marshall House, named after GEN George Marshall. I believe there is 3-4 bedrooms. Unless you are partial to your current lodging plans, I'd recommend it, I hear it's nice. It's the same type of housing that our high ranking officers live in while stationed here. Second, protocol mentioned getting you a car pass that will allow you to come and go through the gates without going through the standard identification and search procedures. And the last question is are you flying into Atlanta or Columbus?

If you have someone on your staff that handles these things for you, I can pass that person's name and contact information along and Protocol can work with them directly if you'd prefer.

One final note, our Family Day brief and Turning Blue ceremony on Thursday is being pushed back. Family Brief is going to be held at 12:00 and Turning Blue at 1:00pm.

Respectfully,
SPM

Disregard what I said about the car service. What they can do is get you a special pass so your vehicle can go through checkpoints like a military vehicle and bypass the extra security measures for non-military stickered vehicles.

Second, protocol mentioned something about a car service. I'm not sure if that means you'd just get a car, or they would have someone drive you around. Let me know if you are interested, at the very least, it will make parking easier. And the last question is are you flying into Atlanta or Columbus?

If Mrs. Palin has someone on her staff that handles these things for you, I can pass that person's name and contact information along and Protocol can work with them directly if you'd prefer.

One final note, our Family Day brief and Turning Blue ceremony on Thursday is being pushed back. Family Brief is going to be held at 12:00 and Turning Blue at 1:00pm.

Respectfully,

Disregard what I said about the car service. What they can do is get you a special pass so your vehicle can go through checkpoints like a military vehicle and bypass the extra security measures for non-military stickered vehicles.

We look forward to your trip down for graduation next week. The FT Benning Protocol office is spinning up as it not often the son of an elected official graduates from "grunt" school. Protocol people are the ones that handle making proper arrangements to ensure we Army folk don't make ourselves look stupid, kind of like Ms Manners-types. I didn't know they existed until yesterday. I'm sure over the next few days there will be more questions, but I figured I would use our direct line of communication to try and get a few of the ones I have now answered. Otherwise, Track will be calling 2-3 times a day as these questions come rolling in.

Protocol welcomes your family to stay in one of the Distinguished Visitor quarters on FT Benning, it's called the Marshall House, named after GEN George Marshall. Unless you are partial to your current lodging plans, I'd recommend it, I hear it's nice. It's the same type of housing that our high ranking officers live in while stationed here. Second, protocol mentioned something about a car service. I'm not sure if that means you'd just get a car, or they would have someone drive you around. Hi beth- this will have to be loaded on teleprompter soon so I can go over it tomorrow. It still needs final reviews- the content is all in there based on two weeks of reviews and thousands of edits to pare it down to a reasonable time limit, but minor tweaks must still take place then formatted for telepromter, plus formatted for distribution after the speech (so symbols and grammer short cuts have to be edited for that forum of distribution). Thanks!

Subject: Fwd: Complaints came in; abuse went on

Hello and FYI,
Enclosed is a link to the Anchorage Daily News article regarding the lawsuit filed by two very young men; they endured sickening foster care and the death of another child in the foster care home with them. May God have mercy. The young men are now suing for 10 million dollars, their lives are permanently damaged, and I hope that finances ease their burdens and futures into adulthood life. I was a CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) and I was terminated from my volunteer position, after I wrote a letter to inform the Governor, and explain to her, the abuse I witnessed of a tiny-toddler in OCS foster care, and the lack of action; the 18th month young child, was hit with a dish-rag, shaken, and threatened to be, " locked-away and put-away." No one, to date, has done much. I was faced with a "pull- up-the-draw-bridges" reaction, which included my suspension & termination (without interviewing me), lack of OCS making a sincere and timely investigation , allowing the children to remain in the foster home at all times, an intake report which was inaccurately / falsely documented, a police investigation thwarted by OCS (" we will take care of it") a Pediatrician's statement to OCS, a month before my report, wherein the Physician clearly states, " to remove the children from the foster-care home, no child should be in that foster home," the doctor's warning and words were never heeded. The litany truly goes on...I witnessed this abuse on September 10, 2007. After writing to the Governor, I was told by OCS and OPA not to have contact with the boys while they investigated, as a CASA, I was literally silenced. I have been passed from one individual to another, I have been slandered by personal derogatory commentary made about me by OCS workers, the foster mother has been protected, and my allegations were determined," unsubstantiated " (even though my husband also stepped-up to the door and saw the shaking; and other witnesses have seen bruises/ laceration damage & inappropriate verbal commentary to the child by the foster mother). I can not fathom ... why...I do not understand, in this day and age, why children still suffer at the hands of " the system," and adults behave as they do. I do not understand how grown adults can have more concern for their job / pay check, than to take appropriate action and to do the right thing. I can not understand, " throwing a whistle-blower under the bus," or pulling-up the draw-bridges on the truth. I learned enough from VECO to record my findings.
Children's health,safety and lives are the issue here; not files, covering malfeasance within organizations,lies, disingenuous reports,egos,holiday time-off ,paychecks,passing-the-buck,shutting-out,shutting-down, or swaying the Judges. I have witnessed, experienced,seen with my own eyes....a tiny child being hurt, abused,assaulted....and no one, NO ONE, has stepped-up to the plate to safely place the child and his infant brother out of harms way (even though their Native American grandmother desperately wants them). Today's news covers the story of the beautiful child who died, and the money which others now seek. If you can do anything, to stop the silence and condoning of our society's treatment of children, please do so. Why does the heartless, crime-filled, unnecessary story still continue for yet more children?

Ma'am -

We look forward to your trip down for graduation next week. The FT Benning Protocol office is spinning up as it not often the son of an elected official graduates from "grunt" school. Protocol people are the ones that handle making proper arrangements to ensure we Army folk don't make ourselves look stupid, kind of like Ms Manners-types. I'm sure over the next few days there will be more questions, but I figured I would use our direct line of communication to try and get a few of the ones I have now answered. Otherwise, Track will be calling 2-3 times a day as these questions come rolling in.

Protocol welcomes your family to stay in one of the Distinguished Visitor quarters on FT Benning, it's called the Marshall House, named after GEN George Marshall. I believe there is 3-4 bedrooms. Unless you are partial to your current lodging plans, I'd recommend it, I hear it's nice. It's the same type of housing that our high ranking officers live in while stationed here. Second, protocol mentioned getting you a car pass that will allow you to come and go through the gates without going through the standard identification and search procedures. And the last question is are you flying into Atlanta or Columbus?

If you have someone on your staff that handles these things for you, I can pass that person's name and contact information along and Protocol can work with them directly if you'd prefer.

One final note, our Family Day brief and Turning Blue ceremony on Thursday is being pushed back. Family Brief is going to be held at 12:00 and Turning Blue at 1:00pm.

Respectfully,

SPM

I'm sorry, but this has been a hair pulling experience. This information is not as easy to find as I thought (or as it should be). Spoke with Emil and he'll see what he can find out. I left msg w/Joe. Frank spoke to folks in labor: Click & Paula and wasn't able to get definitive info, Paula said that it is difficult to say as it can be interpreted differently based on source (?).

However, according to ASMI's website, fishing/seafood is largest. According to ATIA's site, tourism is third (however I've also seen where it is referenced as 2nd). I've been trying to find out what would then be third, oil & gas?

Hopefully Sean has a better idea on resources but I'll keep trying.

Thank you. Maybe Emil or Joey knows off top of head? I'm sure it's correct but want verification

That fisheries are our largest private-sector employer in the state? (Tourism is second?)

Pic in today's paper of Carl Marrs at Young's fundraiser. That's telling given the story has earmark topic throughout. We now know where the opinion column slamming you originated.
